It was now very desirous of cultivating relations with all the great maritime Powers, and it was the intention of the Government to send Ambassadors to represent the nation abroad. His Excellency was most earnestly requested to delay his departure for a few bours, as the Governor was hourly expecting despaiches from the court of Yeddo, officially advising him to communicate the above information to the Russian Ambassador.

So important was this information considered by Count Pontiatine that he expedited his departure for this place to meet the mail steamer which departs to morrow for Europe, by which he has dis-

THE ASSEMBLY BALL AT FRANKFORT. - OUR special correspondent at Frankfort informs us that the forthcoming ball at the Capitol Hotel, Frankfort, on the evening of the 13th inst., will be of a fancy dress character. It is with difficulty that we can command fitting terms in which to express our admiration for the entertainments given from time to time by the Assembly Association. Their elevated character and admirable conduct have given them a wide reputation in fashionable circles. They are attended by the most brilliant beauty, the gayest fashion, and most gallant chivalry of the Commonwealth. We wish particularly to impress it upon the mind; of the patrons of these balls that the next entertainment will be a fancy dress one, and the city last evening. management promise that, if it should prove as great a success as we trust it will be, they will vonchsafe another entertainment at an early day of the same

Of course we cannot claim to have written all the many notices of Dr. Ealing that have appeared in our columns during the last few weeks but we wish now to give him a few words from our owu hand. Though there have never been any excrescences upon our own feet and toes, we have a great many friends less fortunate or less careful than ourselves; and scores of them have applied to Dr. Ealing, and in all cases they have been immediately and entirely relieved. We have never heard one of them speak of his operations but with surprise and He does everything that he professes to do. delight. and does it exactly as he says he will do it. Not for Dr. Ealing's liberal advertising, but for his genuine skill, we commend him to our friends in all the cities he may visit. We believe he remains here a day or two longer.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river was about at a stand last evening with between 11 and 12 feet water on the falls. A drizzling rain fell throughout the day.

There was but one arrival from below-the B. M. Patton, from the Tennessee river. We thank Mr. Upson for a copy of the manifest. The Uncle Sam was due yesterday, but had not arrived at a late hour last night. The Empress is expected to arrive from New Orleans to-day.

The large and fine steamer Antelope, Capt. Becler, will leave for New Orleans to-day. The A. has every appointment to render a trip on her comforteble and pleasant. Capt. Beeler is an attentive and polite officer.

The Jacob Strader is the mailboat for Cincinnati

Car Our New Orleans dispatch announces the failures of three prominent houses in that city. Two of the failures were known through private dispatches early yesterday morning. One of the houses has considerable business connections with this city, but we believe that parties here will not suffer by it. In fact we have good authority for saving that the principal corresponding firm in this house is fully protected.

The Bank of Kentucky, the Bank of Louisville, and the Farmers' Bank of Kentucky have declared semi-annual dividends of 5 per cent. premium.

In the money market there is very little change to notice. Eastern exchange we still quote at 1 premium and New Orleans par to 1 premium. The notes of the old Tennessee banks have improved and we now quote them at 5@6 discount.

evening says:

This has been a very quiet day except in the movements of dividends, as its position, sindwiched between a close holiday and the Sunday, prevents any revival of activity. There have been many failures, on the part of Western corporations, to provide for the payments due to-day, but on the whole the maturing obligations have been met more promptly than anticipated.

Foreign exchange is a little more active, but there are still more sellers than buyers. Two or three houses, who, from having but little paper out or from some peculiarity of position, have a preference as bill-drawers, obtain almost their own rates for the few sales made, so that there is a wide range in quotations. Bills at 60 days ou London are selling at 105%@107% for produce, 108@109% for bankers; do at sight 111%.

AFFAIRS AT FRANKFORT. [Special Correspondence of the Louisville Journal.]

The Election of a U. S. Senator—Legislative Pro-ceedings—The New State Treasurer—The Assembly Ball—Senator Walton and Its Excuse—Senator Porter on Baby Talk, etc. FRANKFORT, Jan. 5, 1858.

The crisis is passed, and Lazarus W. Powell is elected U. S. Senator from Kentucky from and after the 4th of March, 1859. The election took place a few minutes before one o'clock to-day. The event was inaugurated by the appointment of a committee in the Senate to inform the House that the Senate was ready to go into the election. Mr. Whitaker, the talented young American Senator from Shelby, introduced a resolution precisely similar in character introduced a resolution precisely similar in character to that which was urged by the Democrats when Senator Crittenden was elected, declaring it inexpedient to select a Senator at the present time. While the resolution was under consideration, Messrs. Whitaker, Andrews, and Mallory expressed their sition to the election in the clear st and mo lucid terms. Mr. Speaker King, however, decided the resolution out of order, and Mr. Whitaker final-ly withdrew it. Pendiug the motion to appoint the usual committee in the House to inform the Senate that the House was ready to go into the election Capt. Jackson, of Christian, introduced a resolution of the same import as that introduced by Mr. Whitaker in the Senate, and supported a resolution in a speech of unusual force, eloquence, and ability. I wish that not only every American but that every Democrat in the Commonwealth could have heard the patriotic address of that distinguished leader of the American party in the House. Highly as I have esteemed the genius and cultivation of Capt. Jackson, I was not prepared for the realization of his splendid powers which electrified the large auditors are that crowded the hellof the Louise to day to ence that crowded the hallof the House to-day to every part. I trust that the admirable reporter, Mr Sayers, will fill up the notes of the speech in ques tion that the reader may have at least the pleasure of its perusal, while he was denied the gratification of an enjoyment of the glowing beauties of its delivery.

In the Senate Mr. Powell was nominated by Mr. In the Senate Mr. Powell was nominated by Mr. Silvertooth, and in the House by Maj. Newell. Hon. Garret Davis, who was complimented with the vote of the American members (with the exception of that of Senator Burton), was nominated in the Senate by Mr. Bruner and in the House by Mr. Johnson. Senator Burton put Hon. John B. Thompson in nomination, but his name was subsequently withdrawn, Mr. Burton voting for Mr. Thompson. The aggregate vote of the two Houses stood thus:

An enthusiastic return their and there of the Sena-tor elect may be anticipated, but "think of their heads in the morning."

In the Senate to-day the 342d section of the Code of Practice, with an amendment to allow appeals in all cases of fines of $20, w. s ordered to a third reading. Mr. Howard offered a series of resolutions affect-ing the present banking law, and relating to bills of exchange, which were referred and ordered to be ing the present banking law, and relating to bills of exchange, which were referred and ordered to be printed. Le we was obtained in the Senate to report the following: A bill to amend section 180 of the Code of Practice; a bill to charter the Louisville and Cane Run Plankroad Company; a bill to prevent the sale of liquor to minors; a bill to amend chapter 27, article 6, title "Conrts," of the Revised Statutes. There was no definite action in the Senate to-day of any public or local measure of importance.

deaths, and marriages, came up in the House as the special order, and its hour was exhausted without a test of the sentiments of that body in reference to its merits. There is a disposition on the part of two or three members to repudiate the contract which existed between the State and Dr. Suiton, but I have too much confidence in the honor and magnanimity of the majority to indulge a fear that they will tefuse to require the almost herculeau labors of the distinguished Doctor.

Leave was obtained in the House to bring in a bill to reddee the salaties of the State officers, which, I presume, will not meet with much tavor, as it is generally presumed that our public officers are very poorly paid at present. Indeed a proposition is now pending in the Senate to increase the allowance of various State and judicial officers.

Among the reports by standing committees in the House to-day were a bill affecting trials by jury, relating to will cases, which fell into the orders of the day, and a bill to change the present mode of assessing real estate, both of which fell into the orders of the day, and were ordered to be printed.

Mr. Robert C. Wintersmith's term of office as treasurer of State expired at 9 o'clock last evening, and he was succeeded by Col. J. H. Garrard. Mr. Wintersmith and his accomplished clerical force have been busily engaged for some days in righting up the affairs of that department, and I am as used that Col. Garrard's predecessor has left everything in the most perfect order of arrangement. Mr. Wintersmith retires with the consciousness of having faithfully discharged the important trusts reposed in him and with the endorsement from the

have been busily engaged for some days in righting up the affairs of that department, and I am assumed that Col. Garrard's prodecessor has left everything in the most perfect order of arrangement. Mr. Wintersmith retires with the consciousness of having faithfully discharged the important trusts reposed in him and with the endorsement from the lips of his constituents, "Well done, good and faithful servani." The people of the Commonwealth will be fortunate indeed if they find in Col. Garrard un officer who will bring to the position an equal degree of efficiency and faithfulness.

With a high appreciation of Mr. Wintersmiths efficiency as an officer and his pleasing social qualities as a man, his friends of the State-house Square have presented him a magnificent gold watch and massive chain. The gift is an evideuce of the taste and discrimination of the donors and a handsome compliment to the recipient.

The third ball of the series given by the Assembly Association at the Capital Hotel, in this city, has been appointed for Thursday avening, the 13th inst., and I am informed that it will be a fancy dress entertainment. I doubt if any similar entertainment have ever exceeded in point of interest and real enjoyment the balls of the same character which have been given hereofore by this club. They have been attended by the most elevated, refined, and fashionable very and allowed the same character which have been given through motives of pecuniary gain, for be it known that each eutertainment costs the young gentlemen of the club hundreds of dollars over and alove the receipts. They are given to pronote social enjoyment, mutual improvement and for the distribution of the donors and a handsome of the club hundreds of dollars over and alove the receipts. Senator Walton, of Hart, has added another jewel to the galaxy of married beauty which culminates at Frankfort during the present session, in the person of a charming young wife, taken during the holidays. His return was delayed somewhat by the occurrence, and he did not reach Frankfort until yesterday. Senator Mallory composed one of his escort from Louisville. Mr. Walton thought it one of his first duties to claim the indulgence of the Senate for his protracted delay, making some incoherent allusion to a "reasonable excuse." Senator Mallory, observing Mr. Walton's embarrassment, arose and informed the Scnate that he had seen the gentleman's plied to the land. For the army during the last two informed the Scaate that he had seen the gentleman's "excuse," and could assure them that it was a good one.

Senator Porter, of Woodford, who is ordinarily very attentive to the interests of his constituents, is somewhat in the same category with the Senator from Hart. During his heliday visit to his home in Woodford, on Christmas morning, he was delighted to find a little cherubic Porter in the domestic stocking; and, as he has not yet returned to his Senatorial. post, it is fair to presume that he is somewhere in the recesses of old Woodford, exercising his collo-quial powers in the profound mysteries of "baby-talk."

The Democratic members of the Legislature held a cancus at the Capital Hotel last evening, in which it was agreed to nominate candidates for Keeper of The Penitentiary, &c., on Thesday, the 12th inst.
The Editorial Convention, which adjourned to meet again in this city, will convene on Thursday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 5. SENATE.-After some debate, the motion of Mr. Fessenden, in regard to the French Spoliation Claims was referred to a select committee of seven. Messrs. Hunter, Davis, Crittenden, Collamer, Toombs, Hamlin, and King, were appointed to serve House.—Mr. Quitman said that these were questions which might as well come forward now. If ar intelligent nation like this should think proper to retain the neutrality laws, or carry out the recommen-dation of the President (now, he believed, for the frst time made from the Executive chair, that is rest time made from the Executive chair, that is to make them more stringent), he must be content; but he would not be content until he could bring Congress to vote on this important subject. He emphatically denied that the law of nations required independent States to restrain their citizens from hestile aggressions on any other power.

The rights reserved to citizens cannot be invaded by the Government. The powers which are limited.

ment. It was a Government of national, constitu-tional, and common law. Hence, in forming his resolution, he proposed, as was appropriate, to refer this subject to the Committee on the Judiciary. As to the President's position, he understood it to be this: If you wish me to carry out these laws, you must give me more power. But it was not to be in-ferred as a non sequeter that the President would have any objection to the repeal or modification of these laws. As a leader of the majority in the House declared, the election of United States Senator was regarded as "glory enough for one day," and that body adjourned immediately after the event.

committee. He understool that the gentleman from Pennsylvania says that the President waived the question as to whether or not he was in favor of a repeal or modification of the neutrality laws, but simply asked to be clothed with new power to defend tham.

Mr. Jones explained. His impression was that he did not say that the President had made a waiver. He meant to give no opinion one way or another, but if existing statutes were to be carried out by courts throughout the country, it would be necessary to enable him to execute them.

Mr. Keitt, resunning, said the word waiver was not technically correct, but substantially true. The President has asked to have an army and navy to pursue citizens of the United States on the high seas and on foreign soil. Did he want the army and navy to prevent the sailing of expeditions from our shores? We have already an army and navy for this purpose. Then for what purpose does the President want additional forces? Is it to follow expeditionists on the water and arrest them in a foreign land? To do that, the whole neutrality law must be perverted. If the President has the right to make seizures in a foreign land, he has the right of a despot, as commander-in-chief of the army and navy. If meu can be captured as these were, they must be captured for no offence. The pursuit of any expedition beyond three miles from shore is unlawful, and a capture on foreign soil is also unlawful, and as the gentleman from Georgia (Mr.

Mr. Maynard trusted that this question would be of iscussed on its own intrinsic merits, separated from Kunsas, Utah, and others. He took it for granted that Commodore Paulding and Captain Chatard thought they had plenary power and ample instructions for the course they deemed it proper to pursue. It they were acting under instructions of that character, they should not be reproached for obeying them.

The rights reserved to citizens cannot be invaded by the Government. The powers which are limited and specified by the so called nentrality laws attempt to punish as crimes acts which are unknown to the laws of nations. He hoped that the sympathy now manifested in behalf of the Central American States would not be restrained by force. Were not our own citizens as good judges of their own morals as Congress for them?

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JAN. 6, 1858.

Onto. - The message of the Governor of Ohio is a very lengthy document. Of the condition of the agricultural interests of the State, the message says that of the 25,576,960 acres which constitute the area o the State, according to federal computation, no portion worth consideration, can be classed as abso-Intely uscultivable. Only 10,300,000 acres. however, are actually cultivated, and of these, only about 5,000,000 acres by the plow, while more than 15,000,-000 yet remain to be brought under cultivation.

The miles of railroad in operation in 1857 is 2,844, an increase in three years of 477. The total cost of railroads in Ohio is $90,000,000. The gross receipts $10,000,000; net do $4 500,000.

The establishment of a State Agricultural School, for the improvement of the rising generation in a full knowledge of the soil and its capacities, is strongly recommended.

The debts of the State, foreign and domestic, is $16,402,005. Debts of towns, counties, &c., $15,-000; of railroads $50,000,000; making, with other liabilities, a total indebtedness of $221,402,095.

In the State there are fifty-four banks, thirty-six branches of the State Bink, eight independent banks, and ten free banks. Their condition November 2d was as fellows: RESOURCES.

A NOVELTY IN FASIMON.-A New York correspondent gives the following description of something new in crinolindom:

I must give your fair readers of Parisian proclivities an outline of what I saw on Broadway yesterday. A magnificently beautiful young woman, a fair type of "Young America" in crinoline, who has passed the last year and a half in Europe, has returned, bringing with her the "latest cut" of the French modiste, and her own independent way of putting it on and carrying it out. It is a closely putting it on and carrying it out. It is a closely fitting black basquine, made of coarse stuff, with big buttons and side pockets. Imagine a dazzling young beauty, with a waist sadly wasted; a round, robustious, and "animated bust," in a blue moire robustious, and "animated bust," in a blue moire antique skirt of most extended periphery, crowned with a bonnet about the size of a call-blown japoniin yellow kids, with her thumbs in her pockets! There's a dashing, saucy, stunning picture for you to contemplate at your leisure. As the opera critics say, it was decidedly "effective," and produced a Sound Doctrine .- The following arguments, in favor of advance payment for newspapers, were advanced by the Ohio Editorial convention, at its re-

What would you think of a farmer who had raised a thousand bushels of wheat, and who should sell it to a thousand different persons scattered all over the State; and agree to wait a year for his pay from each of them, and if one half of them did not pay at the end of the year, he should give them another at the end of the year, he should give them another bushel of wheat, and agree to wait another year for his pay, and thus go on year after year? How long would such a farmer escape backruptcy? probably not very much longer than publishers of newspapers who followed such a practice. It costs the editor of a weesly paper as much to supply a thousand subscribers with it for one year, as it costs a farmer to raise a thousand bushels of wheat. The farmer sells his gram in bulk, and either takes the sash or a note just as good as cash upon delivery. The editor cauuot sell his thousand papers in bulk. They are sold to a thousand different persons living in different towns in the county, and different counties in the State, and he mast wait until the end of the year before he can get his payment, and then he depear before he can get his payment, and then he de-jeends wholly upon the honesty and responsibility of the subscribers, for it is impossible that he should know the character of all his subscribers. It would not pay him to go around or send around the counor State to collect his dues. It would cost more

Jedediah Jack, Esq., an eminent lawyer, of Metropelis, Ill., was killed in an affray near that dice on Christmas eve by a man named Stofer, lack went to Stoler's pill, with whom he was at ermity, quarreled with him, and threatened or attempted a personal chastisement. The result was that Stofer drew a pistol and fired at his antagonist, the ball passing through his neck. Jack died almost instautly. It is inferred, from the meagre account we have of the affair, that Stofer acted defensively. The deceased was a native of Pennsylvania, but had resided for many years in Illinois, and at the time of his death had attained an enviable rank in the profession of the law.

The Northern Bank of Kentucky has declared a dividend of five per cent. out of the profits of the list six months, with a surplus fund of $388,489 14. The exhibit of the condition of this institution shows its cash means on hand to be $1,006,747 82, of which $747,765 98 is in gold and silver.

Despatches received from England represent that the British Cabinet have had the new Nicaraguan treaty under consideration, and do not disapprove of its provisions. The French Government heartily approves of every article.

THE INDIANA SENATORS .- A Washington correspondent of the New York Herald save:

The next item on the programme in the Senate will be to dispose of Messrs. Bright and Duch, of Indians, neither of whom, it is contended, has any right to a seat in that body. Their case is a much stronger one than that of Mr. Harlan, of Iowa, in the last Congress, and yet every Democratic S-nator, except Pugh, Toombs, and Sidell, voted to turn him out. The question among the Republicans now seems to be whether the two speeches recently now seems to be whether the two speeches recently made by Fitch in the Senate and Bright at Philipelphia, both against the policy of Douglas, are to purchase them their places, yet longer against the lowa precedent, to which all the Democratic Senators, except the three named, are committed. If so, the predictions that the Douglas coup d'etat has disjointed the Democratic party is not only true, but signs of present weakness are manifesting themselves, which are slogether too mortifying. Will the administration side of the Senate, by their public acts, say to Mr. Douglas, "we can't do without the votes of these men from Indiana. They are necessary to our existence." necessary to our existence."

necessary to our existence."

No doubt the opposition would propose to turn out Messrs. Bright and Fitch, and demand that the Democrats should put themselves on the record consistently. It is thought that Gov. Willard, of Indiana, who is understood to be the "right bower" of Mr. Bright, will give them certificates of appointment before they are out of the Sensite chargier. if ment before they get out of the Senate chamber, if Bright says so; and of course he will say so. Then will come the tug of war, and a battle worth fighting.

The question will arise as to the Governor's right to make such an appointment. He will undoubted by do it, on the ground that there is a vacancy within the meaning of the Constitution of the United States, which the Governor can fill by appointment. But the question is Leit such a vacance of the constitution of the United States, which the Governor can fill by appointment. But the question is: Is it such a vacancy? It was first decided in the Lanman case, from Connecticut, and has always since been recognised as a settled rule that the Governor of a State cannot make an original appointment which has not been once filled by an election. It is claimed that the Indiana Sen-ators were never elected, and should be turned out, upon the ground that the pretended election was no election, and hence void. The Senate having decided that the proceedings by which they pretended to be elected were void, it follows, necessarily, that the case stands in the same position it would if no election had been attempted. In such a case it is admitted on all hands that the Governor could not make an appointment. In fact, Indiana has remained for two years with but one Senator, for the reason that the Legislature failed to elect, and the Governor could not make any appointment; and on the same principle, if this pretended election was void, the Governor could make no appointment in either

Under these circumstances, it is presumed here that, if Governor Willard should have the hardihood to appoint these men, there will be found Senators who will object to their being sworn in, and thus prevent their admission into the Senate the second

THE WEATHER IN MINNESOTA To the Editors of the Evening Bulletin:

SAUK RAPIDS, MINNESOTA, Dec. 20, 1857.

GENTLEMEN: It would be an endicss task to follow and correct the numberless misstatements going the rounds of the papers abroad in relation to the clinate of this Territory, especially its winter weather. My attention basbeen more especially called to the subject at this time by a paragraph copied into your paper of the 26th ultimo troin the Prairie du Chien Leader in relation to our present winter. It is not true that the snow is, or has been this winter, fifteen inches deep between Lacrosse and Winona. It is not true that back of Winona the snow is in drifte eight feet and more, and at St. Paul two feet. It is not true that a stage got lost back of Winona and passed the night in the snow drifts, the passengers suffering intensely; and that in the plueries the snow is four feet in depth. Winona is two bundred nifes south of Sank Rapids; even at this far porthern point there has not heen snow enough for sleighing a single day. There is no place in the Territory where it has tallen over five inches this winter. In this part of the Territory—Northern Minnesota—the snow now lies upon the ground on an average of about three inches in depth; the roads are entirely naked, and our stages are vet run. SAUK RAPIDS, MINNESOTA, Dec. 20, 1857.

single day. There is no place in the Territory where it has tablen over five inches this winter. In this part of the Territory—Northern Minnesota—the snow now lice upon the ground our an average of about three inches he depth; the roads are entirely naked, and our stages are yet running on wheels. I am in the immediate neighborhood of the Pineries, and can state positively that the average depth of snow in them at this time is scant four juches, and it is deeper there than anywhere else. There is a slight difference between this and four feet, as stated by the Leader, from which you copy.

The snow at St. Paul has not been this winter more than four inches deep at any one time; yet you are informed by the Prairie du Chien Leader that it is twenty—four inches. In relation to the etage getting lost back of Wenona, the facts are these briefly. Out upon the open prairie, back of Winona, just at night, owing to recent light fails of snow upon the track, the driver lost it; but in his efforts to retrace his steps came up to a good, comfortable hone upon a clishe, and finding ic empty turned in for the night, he and all his passencers, where, by a bright, blazing fire, they passed the night in the utmost condort and in the bischest gles. Early in the morning they went on their way rejoicing. So far from experiencing "intense suffering," as stated in your paragraph from the Leader, it was a time of sound joilification, and so tar from lodging in "snow drift," there was not a snow drift on the prairie over the scales deep.

It is really strange that people will task and write so at rundom. There can extainly be no object in it only to create a sensation and make honest, solar folks open their eyes. Common tife is becoming dull—so are corrimon events. Taking advantage of this, news mongers and news venders in war not on marvelons actualities are busily engaged in inventing them for the good of the trade. We will not object to all this, provided they will let cur favorite Minnesota and the world as lively as though the ha

The Solitary Horseman.—Many years ago, a solitary horseman might have been seen swiftly riding toward Toledo, Ohio. The sun had just set in the western horizon. 'Twas the close, in short, of election day, and the solitary horseman was a courier from an important township in Lucas county. The returns from every township in the county but the one we speak of had been heard from at Toledo, and the vote of this very township was needed to tell how the county had gone.

At length the solitary horseman arrived in Toledo, and reined his foaming steed up before the Indian House. A hig crowd—Democrats and Whige—rushed eagerly around him, and shouted for the "Better time," said the solitary horseman, looking at his watch, "was never made by live hoss! Fifteen miles in thirty two minutes! What do you think of that, gen'lmen?" asked the horseman.

"Cuss the hoss," yelled the excited crowd: "how has — township gone?"

"Gen'lmen," reptied the solitary horseman, "I disremember. It went either Whig or Democrat; but I've been so taken up with the speed of this 'ere hoss, that I forgot which. But, gent'lmen," roared the excited horseman, rising in his saddle and trantically waving his whip in the air, "you may just rost satisfied on one point; all h—II can't take this hoss down on a long stretch."

A VIRGINIA BLUE LAW,-The editor of the Norfolk Argus, in leoking over some musty records of Virginia, came across the following:

Whereas, oftentimes many babbling women often slander and scandalize their neighbors, for which their poor husbands are often brought into chargeable and vexatious lawsuits, and cast in great damages. Be it therefore enacted by the authority aforesaid, that, in actions of slander occasioned by the wife as aforesaid, after judgment found for the damages, the woman shall be punished by ducking! AN INCIDENT OF THE REVOLUTION —A circum stance occurred during the gloomy winter of 1770-7, which has not found its way into histories, but which we copy from a late number of the Democratic Review. It was one among the many during the Revolution which appeared to be Providential allouments in our favor. The writer received the account of it from a son of Richard II. Lee, and from Francis Lightfoot Lee, who were members of Congress, and were in Philadelphia at the time. These gentlemen were accu tensel to mention it as a Providential interference in behalf of their country:

terrerence in behalf of their country:

"When Gen. Washington was retreating through the Jerseys in the winter of 1776-7 and had crossed the Delaware, his lead and bullets had nearly faited, and he would be unable, without a considerable supply, to make the brilliant and successful movements ply, to make the brilliant and successful movements which recovered New Jersey, and re-inspired the country with new hope and confidence in their Commander-in-Chief. In this darkest hour of the war, Congress had made every effort to supply the somuch-needed article. All the lead that could be found in public and private places had been obtained. Lead pipes had been melted and the plates torn from the roofs of houses; but still a small quantity

'Just then in the darkest moment of despondency Robert Morris, who has been called the "financier" of the Revolution, and whose extensive credit and mercantile transactions in Europe, and whose unflinching devotion to his country has laid that country under never-ceasing obligations, received a letter rrom one of his ships which had escaped British cruisers informing him that the vessel was within the capes, and would reach Philadelphia at such a time, and was ballasted with lead, and amounting to a very large quantity. This letter the patriotic Morris—for such we delight to call him—received late in the day, and after Congress had adjourned. He joyfully informed the members he could see before morning.

"Early the next morning Morris and many members repaired to the wharf anxiously looking out for the expected vessel. For some time she did not ap-pear. The members repaired to the hall with aud-dened countenances, and on the assembling of the Ileuse, the letter of Morris was read, and the looked-Heuse, the letter of Morris was read, and the lookedfor supply was eagerly expected Morrls was too anxious to remain in his seat in the House; he returned to the wharf, straining his eye down the river.
At length the goodly vessel heaves in sight, and her owner recognizes the stars and stripes. The news spreads rapidly through the city, and reaches Congress; a scene of joyful emotion instantly succeeds, and the hearts of these glorious, beloved men send up to heaven their grateful thanksgiving for the relief about to be received in the hour of despair.

"The ship arrived baliasted with lead, which the Captain of his own apparent will (but as our fathers rationally and piously believed, by the leadings of a good Providence) had for the first time resolved to use for that purpose. By God's overruling providence, the vessel escapes the perils of storm and capture; arrives at the exigent moment; a large supply of lead-is immediately obtained; our great Commander re-crosses the Delaware and saves our country.—

WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS?-The Shoe and WHAT BECOMES OF OLD BOOTS?—The Shoe and Leather Reporter contains the following solution of the great mystery—where the old boots go to: "Since the rise in leather there has been a greatly increased demand throughout the country for old hoot lege; and mysterious peddlers of an antiquarian cast of countenance have cleared out all the garrets of New Jersey, to the extreme wonder and delight of the unsophisticated natives. For the last six months the importations of old leather by the Jersey City ferry-load have been positively immense, and we recomimportations of old leather by the Jersey City leng-boat have been positively immense, and we recom-mend to the attention of the collector those untaxed arrivals of dutiable merchandise from a foreign port. Now boots which are considered old in Jersey would be regarded as a miracle of age in any other country, and the specimens of legs which these traveling antiuariansbring to the Bowery for sale are so impregnant with red clay, and so utterly destitute of backbene, that the Spartans could not hesitate to ackrovledge they had outlived their usefu'ness.' Nevertheless these legs are taken in quantities from retail shop by the shoemakers of Mulberry street and vicinity and, after being submitted to certain revivifying pro-cesses, are manufactured and returned in the shape of 'Oxford ties.' We examined a few of these shoes in the hands of the operator, and found them a neat and serviceable looking article."

Charles Kuster bailed out of the workhouse.

About twenty-five ordinance warrants were disposed of. Most of them were for obstructing the sidewalk, a few for fast driving, and one for throwing astes into the street. In each case a fine of $5 was imposed.

Henry Welling, warden of the Union engine house, was charged with ringing the bell of that honse longer than fifteen minutes at a time. There were two charges against him. The witnesses stated that on one occasion the bell was rung for two hours. The ordinance prohibits the ringing of the bells for longer than fifteen minutes, unless in case of tire.

Several coffeehouse keepers were up on a charge matic, and Neuralpic Affections, 1: hasin numerous in stances, proved highly beneficial, and in otherseffected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared onstrict ly scientify principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland rr. fessor, Boerhave. Because of its great-success in most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great-success among them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medicinal virtues must be acknowing the constitutions may have been impaired by the continuous use of ardest sprits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in its effect, if finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, raising up the drooping sprit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vizor in the system.

NOTIC!—Whoever expectate find this a beverage will be disappointed; but to the sick, weak, and low spirited it will prove a grateful aromatic cordial, possessed of singular remedial properties. of keeping their coffeehouses open after 11 o'clock at night. The penalty is forfelture of license. The city attorney let the parties off by payment of costs, but the court said that hereafter the law must be enforced. Coffeehouse keepers should take notice of this law. The amount of fines imposed for violation of this ordinance was over $100.

Mr. Willis m Heffernan was one of the parties who was up on an ordinance warrant for obstructing the sidewalk. He plead ignorance of the law. He could not conscientiously support the papers that published the laws. He is certainly a most conscientious liquor dealer. Would it not be well for the City Council, before the next election comes on, to consult Mr. II. as to the papers in which the laws shall be published?

The court remarked that the officers of the Third and Fourth wards had enforced the ordinance for obstructing the sidewalk, and he hoped that the other officers would do the same.

It is believed in Washington that the next arrival will bring intelligence of the capture of the remnant of Walker's army by Paulding.

It remains to be seen whether the extremi-ties of the republic will recognize the new order of ties of the republic will recognize the new order of thiu.s. The treasury is empty, and the government is in the hands of the money lenders, who are receiving enormous discounts for advances on the incoming revenne. The idea that foreign intervention or assistance must be rendered to enable the government to continue is becoming daily more prevalent. A proposition from a European diplomatic agent in Mexico has been made to that government to establish a monarchy, with European support, and an alliance for the safety of Cuba.

The Free State party had, at least to some extent, determined upon bringing a ticket into the field for State efficies, though we infer from the names of the candidates that this unovenent has not the sanction of Lone, Robinson, and the other agitators.

At a Convention of Free State men which adjourned just before the Isabella left, a full ticket for State officers was nominated, but our infermant journed just before the Isabella left, a full ticket for State officers war nominated, but our informant could only recollect a portion of them.

"For Governor, Judge Wm. C. Smith was put in nomination, and for Lieutenant Governor, Wm. Y. Itoberts. The nominees are of a class styled Conservative Free Soilers, and it is hardly probable that they will receive the support of the blood and thunder and confusion party in Kansas.

Au inroad of Missourians was apprehended at Kickapoo on election day, and preparations were making to resist any attempt on their part at voting; but, further than this, there was no unusual excitement.

The Democrat, on the other hand, insists that its intelligence is reliable, and it as well as the Republican give various extracts from the Territorial papers, which go to confirm the war news. The liepublican denounces these reports as false, on the strength that later advices do not confirm the news. The latest newspaper advices came through the Jefferson City (Mo.) Enquirer (pro-slavery), and are

A letter from Westport, Mo., dated Dec. 28, received just as we were going to press, says, in relation to difficulties near Fort Scott, that the abolitionists had fired upon the United States troops and killed and wounded seven or eight soldiers. This lact is not vouched for, although the writer states it seems to be well superficient. seems to be well authenticated.

Three companies of dragoous and two of artillery passed down on the 26th, making a forced march, and Jim Lane was fortifying himself with six hundred men at Sugar Mound. These two latter facts are wholly reliable. Guerrilla parties of Lane's rebels, it is further re Guerrilla parties of Lane's rebels, it is further re liably stated, are robbing the citizens of Missonri near the line of provisions, &c. It is also certain that Gen. Clark has been wounded (shot through the thigh), and that Mr. Little, deputy U. S. Mar-shal, has been killed.

There are serious apprehensious of a feray into Missonri by Lane's party, for the purpose of arson and plunder.

The following letter to the St. Louis Democrat (free State) mentions a split in the free State ranks, some of whom determined to take part in the election which was held last Monday:

LAWRENCE, Kansas, Dec. 25, 1857. The delegate convention of the free State party, which assembled on the 2d inst., and adjourned to meet again at the call of the Territorial executive committee, assembled in pursuance of that call, at this place on the 23d.

They were called together to consider the propri-cty of voting for State officers and members of the Legislature, under the Lecompton constitution. A mass convention was also called to meet at the

The convention was also cared to their at the same time and place.

The convention was called to order by its President, Gov. Robinson. Committees were aprointed to examine the credentials of delegates, and report resolutions to the convention. J. Coampion Vaughn, of Leavenworth, was chairman of the committee on resolutions. The delegate convention then adjourned and the mass convention was or chiral. Here ed, and the mass convention was organized. Hon. G. W. Smith, Esq., was elected President. A committee, of which Dr. J. P. Root, of Wyandott, was chairman, was appointed to draft resolutions for the

This committee reported from the majority resolutions in opposition to voting for State officers, and from the minority resolutions (avorable thereto. When the delegate convention again assembled, a majority of the committee on resolutions, through Mr. Thatcher, of Lawrence, reported resolutions in opposition to vo.ing and favorable to the complete organization and efforcement of the Seate government under the Topeka constitution. Mr. Vaughn, the chairman of the committe, presented a minority report, declaring it to be the duty of the free State party to vote for State officers under the Lecompton constitution. Mr. Redpath, who was a member of the committee, reported some resolutions censuring the members of the Territorial Legislature for their disobedieuce of the instructions of the convention of December 2d, and instructing them at the next session to repeal all the "bogus laws" and adjourn sine die. Also, favorable to entering the election.

The discussion upon the resolutions was interesting and exciting. Messrs. Thatcher, Walden, Root, Oak'ey, and others supported the majority resolutions, and Messrs. Robinson, Conway, G. W. Smith, W. Y. Roberts, Yaughn, and others, the minority. Those in favor of the majority resolutions declared that a participation in the election would be inconsistent with the resolutions passed of the convention. stent with the resolutions passed at the convention December 2d; would involve a recognition of the validity of the constitutional convention; endanger us in Congress in our opposition to the admission under the constitution, and weaken the Topeka constitution before the people.

Those in favor of the minority believed there was imminent danger of the admission of Kansas under the constitution, and that it was the duty of the free State party to guard against it by endeavor-ing to secure the organization of the State govern-

The injustice of the apportionment, the apparent determination on the part of Calhoun to secure the election by fraud, were elaborately discussed and commented upon. During the discussion news came from the seat of war, saying that Gen. Lane was liable to be attacked by the United States troops— that he was entrenched in a strong position, and would, if attacked, defend himself. It was also said that the persons under command of Lane were op-posed to voting, and in favor of resisting by force any attempt to thrust the Lecompton constitution upon the reople. This information was received with enthusiasm, and had a sensible effect upon the decision of the question.

When the question came up for decision, it was decided that the delegates present from each district be empowered to cast the number of votes to which such districts may be entitled. The result was seventy-five votes in favor of the majority resolutions, t) sixty-four in opposition. Considerable feeling was manifested when it was runnored that a majori-was manifested when it was runnored that a majority of the delegates present were favorable to voting. The mass meeting, during its session, laid upon the table the resolutions reported by Dr. Root and S. N. Wood, and passed one pledging the convention to support any platform passed by the delegates. The convention, after having been in session two days, adjouraed last evening.

Some of the party who were in favor of voting left the delegate convention and assembled at Masonic Hall to nominate State officers. Dr. Davis, of Leavenworth, was appointed chairman. There were several persons in attendance who were not deleseveral persons in attendance who were not delegates—among them G. W. Brown and Mr. Ewing, of Leavenworth. After the adjournment of the delegate convention, many of its members repaired to the hall. During the proceedings, some of the delegates and others who were opposed to the action of the meeting, feeling injured at the language of the resolutions, endeavored to get the floor, and were refused. So much disturbance ensued that the meeting was broken up, and its members proceeded to the termination of the Herald of Freedom building and completed their nomination of a State ticket.

They nominated G. W. Smith for Governor, W.

It is thought by many that the ticket will not receive many votes. Others are sanguine of carrying a large number of votes. The ticket is composed of men who have been favorably known in the conventionizing the Superintendent of the Workhouse to tions of the free-State party, and men who have wielded much influence therein.

[From the Leavenworth Times, Dec. 26] From Fort Scott.—We have late and important in telligence from Fort Scott, and shall briefly state the cause of the trouble, with the present position of affairs. In the southern portion of the Territory a large number of Missourians hold claims. Especially is this the case in and about Very Scott ally is this the case in and about Fort Scott. For a long time back, the Free State sottlers thereabouts have been subjected to innumerable annoyances. Their houses have been burned, their cattle and horses stolen, and themselves subjected to continual insult. These things continued up to a month ago, when books Deputy Marchal Little made his appearance with numerous write against Free State per when bogus Deputy Mar-hal Little made his appearance with numerous writs against Free State men. These writs were made cut under the rebellion act which the Legislature repealed. The Free State men would not obey the Sheriff, whereupen the latter secured a large posse comitatus and ordered a Free State company to surrender unconditionally, or lo suffer the consequences. They accepted the latter alternative, and in the fight that easued, Lim'e was lut in the breast with a bail, another proclavery man was killed, and three others bailly wounded. The proslavery party, after this, retreated to Fort The proslavery party, after this, retreated to Port Scott much infuriated. In the mean while messengers had been sent to Fert Leavenworth for troops, and they were not long in reaching the "seat of war." Fort Scott is under martial law, and eight Free State men are there held as prisoners. Major-Gene al Lane it in command of the Free State "Doye." He has enrolled them as Kansas militia, and is thus clothed with the authority of law. His force, though small, is composed of stern mettle, and cannot well be "frightened." His position we understand to be some eighteen miles from the Fort. He has issued a proclamation, in which he says that every bona fide souther protected, but that all Missou-rians caught in arms are to be hung. The report that reached Lawrence last, was that a conflict had taken place between Lane's forces and the United States troops, eight of the latter being killed and wounded. Although we scarcely credit this, it seems corroberated from the fact that several conseems corroberated room the fact that several con-panies of United States tropps, with Sherman's fly-ing artillery, left the Fort yesterday for Fort Scott, How this affair will end, it is impossible to foretell. It is assuming a serious character, and, if not checket, may convulse large portions of the Territory.
